Week 3 Term 4 – Thursday 29th October 2020

Our thoughts are with Stephanie and her family today as they farewell a beautiful wife, mother, grandmother, sister and dear friend. Stephanie was by her mother's side as she fought her battle with courage and determination and I'm sure there will be many tales retold over a glass of sparkling shiraz as the family gather to celebrate her life today.

Book Week Celebrations

Last Friday saw an invasion of book week characters and during our 'virtual' assembly there was great excitement as we 'zoomed' to each class to look at costumes. Many thanks to Mrs Scholz for all the behind the scenes work that went in to make this day a success. Thankyou also to those who purchased books for home and school, all of which contribute to better resourcing our library for students.

Technology, Gaming and Online Safety

Council recently held a parent webinar on Technology, Gaming & Online Safety with Dr. Michael Carr-Gregg, Game Aware and ySafe and a recording has now been published for parents and educators who were unable to attend. This may be of particular interest to parents with concerns about video game and technology addiction, but also covers a general psychological perspective of how young people engage online and strategies for parents to support their child's healthy relationship with technology.

The recording is on YouTube and can be accessed here: <https://youtu.be/8h49FvwQ5ms>

This Week: 5S

5S students made a chemical reaction to blow up a balloon!

Baking soda reacts with tartaric acid in water to produce gas. The gas blows up the balloon! Zoe and Joe have been working together to draw up the designs for our STEM Project and we investigated the new 360° camera. Jin provided an interesting information presentation about 'crickets'. He brought in a well-cared for live cricket and a book full of information. Joe designed a computer animation of a fox and explained to the class how to do it. It was a great presentation! Each week the class work together to make a tally sheet of orders for canteen. Matthieu calculates change for the orders with class mates support. Great teamwork! This week the class celebrated a milestone birthday for Jin as he turned 18. We loved his birthday 'cool dude' look!
